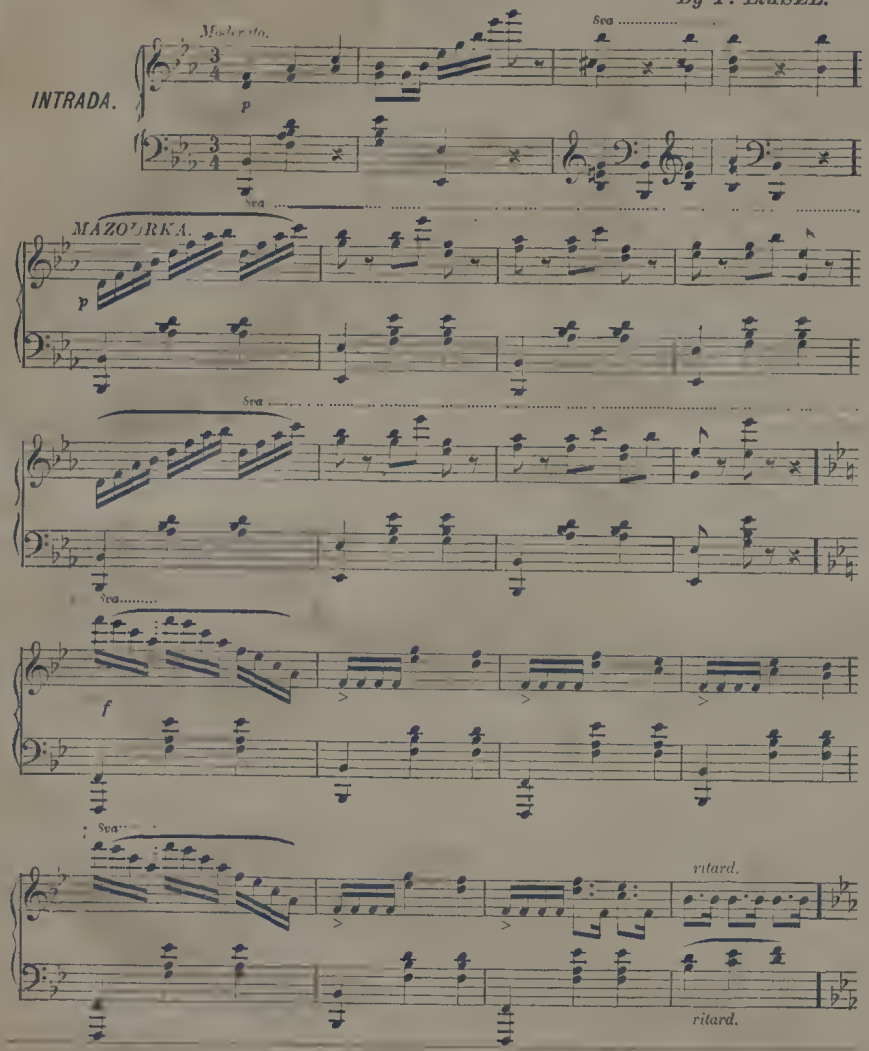
RAIN-DROP MAZOURKA.

Companion to "SNOW-DROP GALOP."

By P. EMSEL.



The most decided success of the year is

ROBIN'S LAMENT. (Fantasie.)

By MEININGER.

In the short space of ninety days, FIVE EDITIONS of this charming composition were issued from the press, and it is confidently expected that the sale will soon reach 40,000 copies. The author, in this piece, seems to have caught the sentiment of "ROBIN'S LAMENT," and introduced it to music in the happiest style.

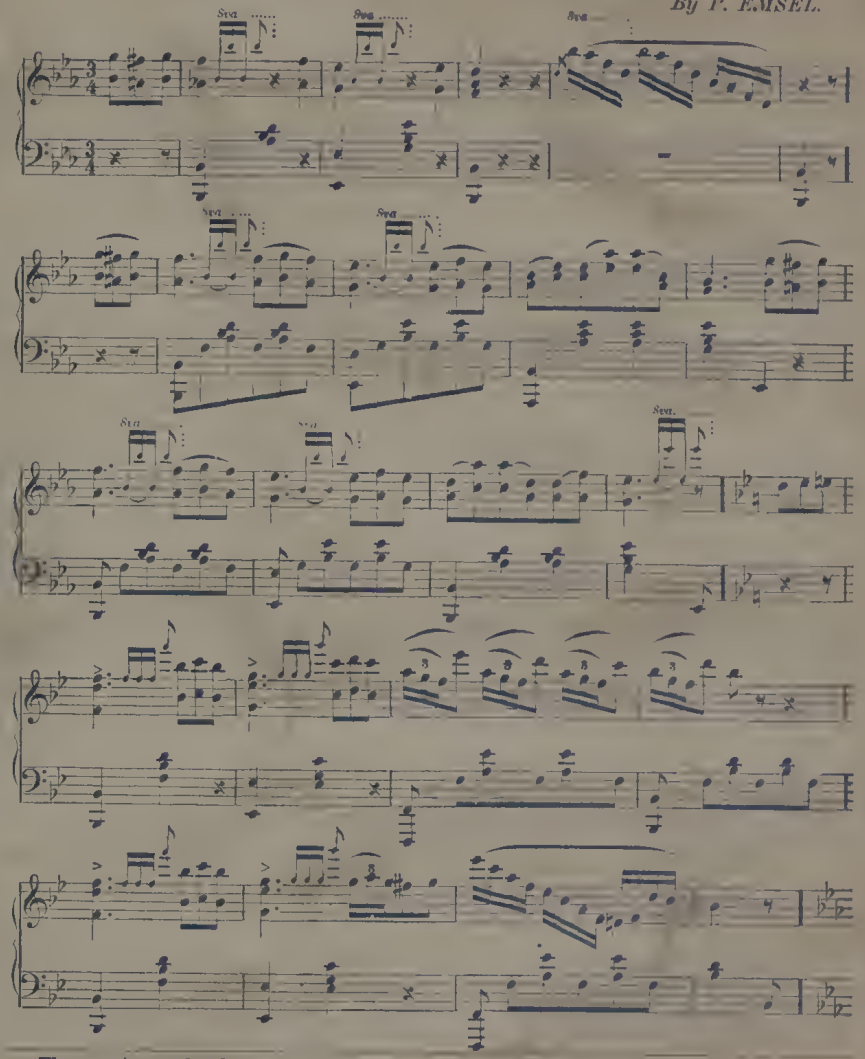
It is fast taking the place of the "Mocking Bird," "Silvery Waves," "Falling Leaves," and other old familiar pieces. Be sure to get a copy.

Price, 65 cents.

DEW-DROP MAZOURKA.

Companion to "RAIN-DROP MAZOURKA."

By P. EMSEL.



The most popular ballad now is

ROBIN'S LAMENT.

The immense popularity of the fantasie, "ROBIN'S LAMENT," has caused the publisher to issue a ballad of the same title, which we take great pleasure in recommending to our patrons as good in every respect. The words are beautiful, and set to a most charming melody by the same composer. It is in the key of F, and not difficult.

"What ails you, pretty Robin?
Why droops your feeble wing?
'Twas once your wont, sweet Robin,
To chirp at every thing.

Price, 35 cents.
